General Policy Manual (V1)

Internal Reference Document — Test Bank Tenant (QA Synthetic Data)

Issued by: Policy & Compliance Division

Section 1.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 1.2 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 1.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 1.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 1.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 1.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 2.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 2.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 2.3 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff must change their system passwords at least once every 45 days, and passwords must not be shared with any other employee under any circumstance, including supervisors.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 2.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 2.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 2.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 3.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 3.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 3.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 3.4 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 3.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 3.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 4.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 4.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 4.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 4.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 4.5 — Information Security Guidelines

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 4.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 5.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 5.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 5.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 5.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 5.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 5.6 — Information Security Guidelines

Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 6.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 6.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 6.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 6.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 6.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Section 6.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 7.1 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Section 7.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Section 7.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 7.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 7.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 7.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 8.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Section 8.2 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 8.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 8.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 8.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 8.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 9.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 9.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 9.3 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 9.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 9.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 9.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Section 10.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 10.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Section 10.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 10.4 — Information Security Guidelines

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 10.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 10.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 11.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 11.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 11.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 11.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 11.5 — Information Security Guidelines

Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 11.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 12.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 12.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 12.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 12.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 12.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 12.6 — Information Security Guidelines

Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 13.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 13.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 13.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 13.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 13.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 13.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 14.1 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 14.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 14.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 14.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 14.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 14.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 15.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 15.2 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 15.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 15.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 15.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 15.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 16.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 16.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Section 16.3 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 16.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 16.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 16.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Section 17.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 17.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 17.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 17.4 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 17.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 17.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 18.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 18.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Section 18.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 18.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 18.5 — Information Security Guidelines

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 18.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 19.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 19.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 19.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 19.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Section 19.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 19.6 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 20.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 20.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 20.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 20.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 20.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 20.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 21.1 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 21.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 21.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 21.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 21.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 21.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 22.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 22.2 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 22.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 22.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 22.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 22.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 23.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 23.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 23.3 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Section 23.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 23.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Section 23.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 24.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 24.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 24.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 24.4 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 24.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Section 24.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 25.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Section 25.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 25.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 25.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 25.5 — Information Security Guidelines

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 25.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 26.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 26.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 26.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 26.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 26.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 26.6 — Information Security Guidelines

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 27.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Section 27.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 27.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 27.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 27.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 27.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 28.1 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 28.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 28.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 28.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Section 28.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 28.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 29.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 29.2 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 29.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Section 29.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 29.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 29.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 30.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 30.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 30.3 — Information Security Guidelines

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 30.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Section 30.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 30.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 31.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 31.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 31.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Section 31.4 — Information Security Guidelines

Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 31.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 31.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Section 32.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 32.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Section 32.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 32.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 32.5 — Information Security Guidelines

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 32.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 33.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 33.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 33.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 33.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 33.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 33.6 — Information Security Guidelines

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 34.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 34.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 34.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 34.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 34.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 34.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 35.1 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 35.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 35.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 35.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 35.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 35.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 36.1 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 36.2 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 36.3 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 36.4 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 36.5 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 36.6 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 37.1 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Section 37.2 — Code of Conduct Overview

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Section 37.3 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 37.4 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 37.5 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 37.6 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 38.1 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. All staff members must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 38.2 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 38.3 — Code of Conduct Overview

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 38.4 — Information Security Guidelines

New joiners need to be aware of the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 38.5 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 38.6 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 39.1 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 39.2 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 39.3 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Section 39.4 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 39.5 — Information Security Guidelines

All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 39.6 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training.

Section 40.1 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

Section 40.2 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 40.3 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Section 40.4 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

All staff members must acknowledge the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 40.5 — Code of Conduct Overview

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 40.6 — Information Security Guidelines

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

Section 41.1 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually.

Section 41.2 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

New joiners need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. New joiners must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 41.3 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

New joiners are required to follow the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 41.4 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training.

All staff members are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 41.5 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

New joiners are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data shall comply with the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Section 41.6 — Code of Conduct Overview

New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

New joiners must adhere to the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Branch personnel are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel are required to follow the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as communicated during induction training. Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel need to be aware of the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the whistleblower policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 42.1 — Information Security Guidelines

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training.

All staff members must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and confirm understanding annually.

Section 42.2 — Acceptable Use of IT Systems

All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as a condition of continued employment.

Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment.

Every employee of the bank shall comply with the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct as a condition of continued employment.

Section 42.3 — Customer Data Privacy Commitments

Every employee of the bank must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members must acknowledge the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually. New joiners must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel shall comply with the whistleblower policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Branch personnel must adhere to the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members must adhere to the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. All staff members are required to follow the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Branch personnel must adhere to the acceptable use policy for IT systems and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. All staff members shall comply with the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training. New joiners are required to follow the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

Section 42.4 — Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines failing which disciplinary action may follow. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank are required to follow the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training.

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually. Every employee of the bank shall comply with the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment.

New joiners shall comply with the information security guidelines and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk. New joiners need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Every employee of the bank need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment.

Section 42.5 — Grievance Redressal for Customers

All staff members are required to follow the acceptable use policy for IT systems and confirm understanding annually. Branch personnel must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy as a condition of continued employment. All staff members need to be aware of the grievance redressal mechanism and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

All staff members are required to follow the customer data privacy policy as communicated during induction training. Branch personnel need to be aware of the acceptable use policy for IT systems as a condition of continued employment. New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct and confirm understanding annually.

All staff members shall comply with the acceptable use policy for IT systems failing which disciplinary action may follow. Branch personnel shall comply with the grievance redressal mechanism as a condition of continued employment. All staff members shall comply with the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and any exception must be reported to the compliance desk.

Every employee of the bank are required to follow the grievance redressal mechanism failing which disciplinary action may follow. New joiners must acknowledge the whistleblower policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members must acknowledge the customer data privacy policy failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Section 42.6 — Dress Code and Workplace Conduct

New joiners shall comply with the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. All staff members need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must acknowledge the information security guidelines as communicated during induction training.

New joiners need to be aware of the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the whistleblower policy as communicated during induction training. Any staff member handling customer data must acknowledge the anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy and confirm understanding annually.

Any staff member handling customer data need to be aware of the information security guidelines as a condition of continued employment. Any staff member handling customer data are required to follow the customer data privacy policy and confirm understanding annually. Any staff member handling customer data must adhere to the bank's code of conduct failing which disciplinary action may follow.

Branch personnel are required to follow the bank's code of conduct as communicated during induction training. New joiners must adhere to the customer data privacy policy as a condition of continued employment. Branch personnel must acknowledge the information security guidelines and confirm understanding annually.