Your Home Loan at a Glance

Planning to own a home? This brochure walks first-time and repeat buyers through everything from checking eligibility to the final disbursement, so there are no surprises along the way.

Our floating-rate product starts at 10.05% per annum. The final rate depends on your credit profile, employment type, loan size and the property being financed. A fixed-rate option is available only after a review by our credit team.

- Funding available for purchase, construction, plot and extension
- Tenure of up to 15 years with flexible EMI dates
- One-time fee of 1.75% + GST
- We fund up to 65% of the agreed property value
- Digital sanction letter within 48 working hours of a complete file

Who Can Apply?

We welcome salaried employees, doctors, chartered accountants, architects and business owners. Co-applicants such as a spouse or parent may be added to improve the eligible loan amount.

Every application is reviewed on repayment capacity, credit behaviour, stability of income and a clear title for the property.

- Applicant age: 28 to 65 years (70 for business owners)
- Net monthly income of at least Rs. 60,000
- Credit score of 720 or above preferred
- Total EMIs must not exceed 50% of net income
- NRI applicants need a local co-borrower

Pricing and Fee Schedule

Our pricing is risk-based: the stronger your credit profile, the lower your rate. Review the schedule carefully before applying, since fees can change from time to time.

Overdue instalments are charged a penalty of 4.5% per month on the overdue amount. No foreclosure charge applies to individual borrowers on floating-rate loans, and a nominal fee applies for duplicate statements.

Plan Your EMI

Use the table below to estimate your monthly outgo at 10.05% per annum. Figures are indicative and rounded to the nearest rupee.

A shorter tenure saves a lot of interest over the life of the loan, whereas a longer tenure keeps the monthly burden manageable. Many borrowers start with a long tenure and prepay when income grows.

Loan (Rs. lakh)	5 years	10 years	15 years	15 years
30	Rs. 63,815	Rs. 39,728	Rs. 32,330	Rs. 32,330
50	Rs. 106,358	Rs. 66,214	Rs. 53,883	Rs. 53,883
75	Rs. 159,537	Rs. 99,321	Rs. 80,825	Rs. 80,825
100	Rs. 212,717	Rs. 132,428	Rs. 107,767	Rs. 107,767

From Application to Keys in Hand

Our process has been redesigned to be paperless wherever possible. Most applicants receive an in-principle approval the same day they apply.

After approval, legal and valuation checks are done in parallel, saving up to a week compared with the traditional sequence. Disbursement is made directly to the seller or builder.

- Apply online and upload documents through the app
- In-principle approval in the same day
- Parallel legal and technical checks
- e-Sign the sanction letter and agreement
- Staged disbursement for under-construction property

Repayment Options

Select the repayment method that suits you. Step-up and step-down EMI schedules are available for borrowers whose income is expected to change.

Prepayments are accepted any time. Choose to lower your EMI or shorten the tenure.

- Standard EMI collected through NACH mandate
- Step-up EMI for young professionals
- Flexi-EMI: interest-only period of up to 36 months
- Free part-prepayment on floating loans
- Original documents handed back at closure

Protecting Your Home and Family

Your home is the collateral for this loan, so protecting it matters. We require property insurance for the full tenure and recommend a loan protection plan.

A mortgage will be created in our favour at the time of disbursement. Insurance premiums can be added to the loan, subject to eligibility.

- Home insurance covering fire, flood and earthquake
- Term cover equal to the outstanding loan
- Premium can be financed within the loan
- Registered mortgage charged in the lender's favour
- Annual insurance renewal reminders

Tax Savings on Home Loans

Owning a home with a loan can lower your tax bill. The benefits depend on whether the property is self-occupied or let out and on the tax regime you select.

This brochure is not tax advice. Rules change often, so check current provisions before making decisions.

- Interest deduction on self-occupied property (capped)
- Principal repayment deduction under the old regime
- Stamp duty and registration charges deductible once
- Separate limits for each co-owner
- Interest on let-out property follows different rules
